260 acres of meeting space

At Lied Lodge & Conference Center, our definition of meeting space is different than most.

The meetings we host are so much more than the conference rooms they occupy, more than the latest technology that connects those gathered around the table.

It's about people finding inspiration and opportunities to foster bright thinking. It's where rich conversations lead to breakthrough, where the spirit of collaboration thrives, and where doing business becomes more meaningful.

From world-class indoor spaces to leafy, open-air vistas, we invite you to explore this 260-acre campus — and redefine what your next meeting should be.
